Office of the

U.S. COAST GUARD'S DEEPWATER HORIZON REPORT – INCOMPLETE AND SPECULATIVE

Issue: The manner in which the federal joint investigation of the Deepwater Horizon casualty ("Joint Investigation") has been conducted may lead to misimpressions as to the roles and responsibilities of those associated with the incident. No action should be taken before this investigation and other official inquiries are properly concluded, and final, comprehensive, and fully reviewed reports are issued.

Background: On April 20, 2010, a loss of well control and subsequent explosion occurred involving the Mobile Offshore Drilling Unit Deepwater Horizon that resulted in the loss of 11 lives, pollution, and the sinking of the unit. On April 27, 2010, the Departments of Homeland Security and Interior together issued a convening order (the "Convening Order") regarding the Joint Investigation of the Deepwater Horizon casualty. The Convening Order contained a statement of principles of how the Joint Investigation was to be conducted and called for the issuance of a single report by U.S. Coast Guard ("USCG") and the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, Regulation and Enforcement ("BOEMRE") upon its completion. This Joint Investigation is separate and independent from the other reports and investigations relating to this incident, including the criminal investigation launched by the Department of Justice in June 2010, the ongoing investigations by the National Academy of Engineering/National Research Council, the U.S. Chemical Safety and Hazard Investigation Board, and Congressional committees in 2010, and the Report to the President by the National Commission on the BP Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill and Offshore Drilling issued January 12, 2011.

Republic of the Marshall Islands ("RMI"): The RMI, as the flag State of the Deepwater Horizon, has an obligation to conduct an investigation of the casualty and the RMI Maritime Administrator is in the process of finalizing its own report of the investigation, in accordance with the internationally accepted Code of the International Standards and Recommended Practices for a Safety Investigation into a Marine Casualty or Marine Incident ("Casualty Investigation Code"). Shortly after the casualty, the Maritime Administrator requested to participate in the Joint Investigation and provided its full cooperation as a Substantially Interested State. While there was nominal cooperation extended by the Joint Investigation team ("JIT") to the Maritime Administrator, it fell far short of a level of cooperation contemplated by the Casualty Investigation Code.

Investigation Report: Contrary to the Convening Order, on April 22, 2011, the USCG released the Report of Investigation into the Circumstances Surrounding the Explosion, Fire, Sinking and Loss of Eleven Crew Members Aboard the MOBILE OFFSHORE DRILLING UNIT DEEPWATER HORIZON in the Gulf of Mexico April 20-22, 2010, Volume I ("USCG Report"). The USCG Report was not issued jointly by the USCG and BOEMRE. The USCG Report focuses exclusively on the marine aspects of the casualty, which were not the proximate causes of this casualty. The Commandant of the USCG and his staff will review the USCG Report's findings, conclusions and recommendations, and will then decide to concur, partially concur, or not concur with the USCG Report. Pursuant to the USCG's own procedures, this report should not have been made public until the Commandant took final agency action. Another report, presumably Volume II, will be issued later by BOEMRE.

Report Concerns: The issuance of the USCG Report contravenes the requirements of the Convening Order, which directs the JIT to issue a single, comprehensive report, jointly drafted by the USCG and BOEMRE. Thus, it is important to note that the USCG Report is not "final" and will, in fact, be incorporated into the final JIT report, due by July 27, 2011. Further, a number of the key USCG investigative findings regarding the marine aspects of the casualty investigation are speculative in nature, and are couched in terms of "could have," "may have," or "it is possible." These findings are contradicted by the evidence in the investigative record or appear not to be based on the facts in the record. The advance release and nature of these findings create a misimpression as to the actual causes of the incident.

Conclusion: Actions taken on the basis of these investigations should wait until all investigations are properly concluded, and final, comprehensive, and fully reviewed reports are issued. No action should be based on the incomplete and speculative findings contained in the USCG Report.

This material is distributed by Blank Rome Government Relations LLC on behalf of The Trust Company of the Marshall Islands, Inc., the Republic of the Marshall Islands Maritime Administrator. Foreign Registered Agent information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, D.C.
